

Use of Certification Mark

This guideline has been created to help you to comply with the rules for the use of certification marks, which is verified at each IETQAN surveillance audit.

CERTIFICATION MARK

IETQAN Conformity and Certification has its own logo - IETQAN logo (see the head of this document), which may be used exclusively by IETQAN Conformity and Certification office on its own promotional materials, letterheads, websites.

Furthermore, IETQAN Conformity and Certification has the certification mark (fig. no. 1 – to be added), which is used by customers certified by IETQAN Conformity and Certification to prove the certification of their management system.

IETQAN certification mark can be applied only the graphical form as it was provided to the certified client.

USE OF CERTIFICATION MARK

Certification Mark or information that the Client is certified CAN be used:

- On stationary (brochures, company leaflets and reports)
- In corporate advertising and website
- On company vehicles such as trucks and vans
- On company signs and flags
- On exhibition equipment and company displays,
- On product packaging (only for those which can be removed without the product disintegrating or being damaged) ; The statement shall in no way imply that the product, process or service is certified by this means and include reference to:
 - identification (e.g., brand or name) of the certified client;
 - the type of management system (quality management system of medical devices) and the ISO 13485 standard;
 - name of the IETQAN certification body.

Certification Mark or information that the Client is certified CAN NOT be used on:

- Laboratory test,
- Calibration reports,
- Inspection reports,
- Certificates,

because they are considered as products in this context.

USE OF THE CERTIFICATION MARK ON PRODUCT PACKAGING

Product packaging is considered to be that which can be removed without disintegrating or damaging the product. Accompanying information is considered to be information that can exist independently or is easily removable. The type or identification plate is considered part of the product.

The certification mark accompanying the text must not cause any doubt about what was certified and which certification body granted the certification. This mark must not be used on the product or on the product's packaging or in any other way that could be interpreted as indicating product conformity.
